The amount of information given on the evening was

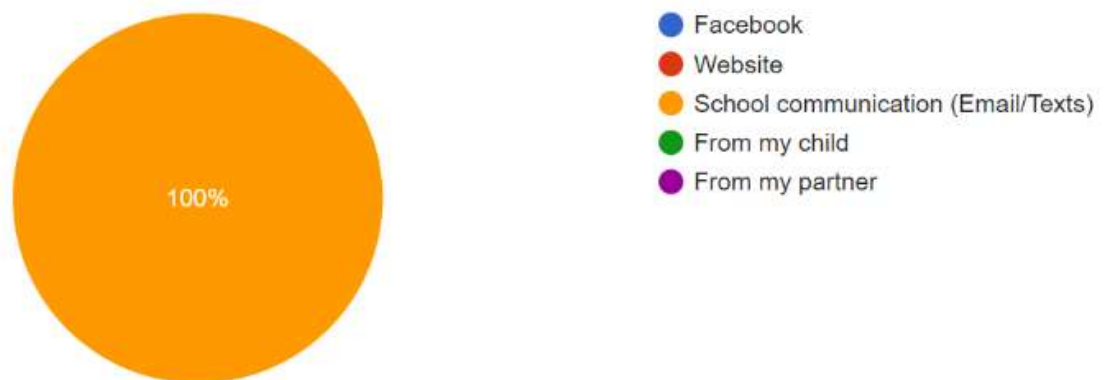

- Too much
- About right
- Too little

I would recommend this evening to other students and parents/carers

I heard about this event through

What other information would be useful?

- A copy of the PowerPoint to look back over.
- More details on the graph where my child is.
- Information for adults who couldn't attend so that both the child and adult are not left out.
- We found there was a lot involved and wished we had known this when choosing the options as it may have changed our mind as to the subjects picked.
- The information provided was about right, but the timescale for delivery was very short. It would help if the speakers in the main session had microphones because general noise in the hall, coupled with the pace of the speakers trying to get through the information timeously, often made it difficult to hear what was being said.

Any further comments?

- It was really informative. Thank you for your kind feedback.
- It was very useful. Thank you for your kind feedback.
- Be aware of the pressure being put on pupils' mental health. Schooling should be a happy productive environment, not one to be stressed, worried and afraid of, because all a good parent should want is for their child to do their best. This should not be about the school's grades for Ofsted but about happy well balanced pupils looking forward to their future. We agree 100%, thank you.
- The 10 minute sessions were not long enough for the amount of information the staff tried to put across. As a result, rushed and difficult to take everything in. Valid feedback, we will look into potential changes to session timings, thank you.
- Classrooms were not labelled and there were no people on hand specifically to provide directions. Those persons who were on hand were often answering lengthier queries from parents which left those looking for rooms with no one to ask and missing the starts of presentations as there was no time to get between each one, and each one overran in any event. Staff based in the Hall are to assist with navigating the school – for future events we will ensure this is made clear.
- It would be helpful to have a summary for each subject of the resources which are available to the students for their independent study, how the child can access it, how the parent can access monitor or support. Valid feedback, we are looking into this, thank you.
- I totally understand why the evening was 2hrs long but there was SO much information. It would have been great to have had 15 min slots for the options subjects rather than 10 min as well. But everyone did brilliantly and I learnt loads, so thank you. Valid feedback, we will look into this, thank you.

Thank you to everyone who has taken the time to provide valuable feedback to us. We take all comments on board to look at how we can improve in the next family learning session.
